"To Thy Own Self Be True"

The first competition that Greg played in was the 2004 Wags for Wishes event. He and his better half, Marie, came to Wags to try all the dog activities to see what Marie's dog, Kendall, would take to. Kendall was, and still is, a beautiful, young, sable Australian Shepard that they had rescued. Greg and Kendall were not the highest scoring team that day, but they had a blast and were soon bitten by that disc dog bug. Shortly thereafter, they joined Disc Dogs In Southern California to pursue their newfound interest. Greg quickly became very active in the club and was elected to serve on the Board of Directors. He accepted this challenge despite being a newcomer to the sport. What he lacked in experience, he more than made up for with hard work. Greg could always be relied on to help, whether it was setting up equipment or heading up fundraising, no task was too big or too small. In the short time we knew Greg, he embodied the spirit of camaraderie and friendship that is so fundamental in the sport of disc dogs. The Wags for Wishes was Greg's favorite event, probably because it was his first, but mostly because it benefited the kids. We will miss his warm smile and selfless friendship.
